THE BOSSES NOT SO DETERMINED.

Senator-Elect Vilas still holds the whip as Boss Wall was made to realize during the last few days. When the senator-elect heard of the middle Wall and Peck had thrown the party into on the Wapnau home matter he hastened back from Florida and called Governor Peck and Chairman Wall to him. Madison correspondents ever that he told the two leaders in plain terms that the whole attempt to take away the management of the Wapnau Home from the Grand Army trustees and place it in the hands of a board of control was a mistake; that it had involved the democratic party in a very serious predicament, and that it must go no farther. The protests of the two against showing the white feather fell on deaf ears. Wall and Peck finally asked Senator Vilas if he thought he could get them out of the scrape. Senator Woodworth, and the directors of the Wapnau home were invited to attend a conference and a bill was drafted that was just as satisfactory to them as the original. According to its provisions the State Board of Control will have no voice in the direct management of the home. This was the nub of the whole dispute, for the representatives of the state have always been empowered to visit the home, to inspect its affairs and finances and to report to the governor upon their condition.

HOARD IS FOR BLAINE.

Ex-Governor Hoard has been interviewed as to the presidential preferences of Wisconsin republicans. Mr. Hoard insists that Blaine is the man most frequently mentioned throughout the state, and declares that Blaine can carry the state by a large majority. "If the republicans will hang together they will win anyhow in Wisconsin," he remarked to the reporter.

"The bar was on top at the election last fall, but he cannot deceive the people during another campaign. The republicans part—and when I say that I include the McKinley bill—is necessary in favor. The farmers in Oshkosh when I was there last fall, were complaining about the McKinley law. The farmer here were also complaining. The farmer claimed that it deprived them of trade they formerly possessed; the American farmer simply looked without giving a reason. I could not notice how the bill could work both ways. If it deprived the Canadian farmer of trade the American farmer certainly secured what the other lost.

Wisconsin villages do not seem anxious for free postal delivery. The law permits the establishment of a delivery service in towns of from 500 to 1500, a boy or young man making one or two deliveries a day for which he is to receive pay ranging from $100 to $212 a year. But two such offices are allowed in a state and the system is wholly experimental. If it works well all the villages in the country will be permitted to have free delivery. As yet no Wisconsin towns have made application.

Ordinarily it would be fair to presume that if the city ticket of either party received a fair majority in the Janesville election the council would go with it. This is as it should be. But the arbitrary shifting of lines carried out under a cloak of secrecy by democratic representatives make it necessary for republicans to carry the city to even get two aldermen out of five. But little things of this kind do not discourage republicans as our democratic friends are likely to learn next spring.

Under the new gerrymander republicans must carry the state by 40,000 in order to carry the legislature in 1892. Every interest, general and individual, has been sacrificed in order to gain the one supreme object, the election of a democratic senator in place of Senator Sawyer. It may be that the manipulators have over reached themselves and in their greediness have taken a big dose of their "gerrymander syrup" that it will prove a "popular-indigestion emetic."

It has been proven lately that no one can tell just what young women will do on a bet. And now comes the experience of a joke-loving merchant in Indiana who offered a young lady twenty yards of silk for a new dress and a $12 bonnet if she would sew a cord of wood in front of his store. It was an expensive lot of wood for him, but he knows more about female pluck than he did.

competition. I've read the free trade busterers are forced to admit it.

California has just passed a law requiring all executions of persons sentenced to hang to be performed at San Quentin, within the walls of the state penitentiary. This is an idea worth imitating. The publicity of hanging bees could thereby be wholly avoided and a wholesome silence would be excited upon criminals.

An Italian newspaper in New York calls the civilization of America a bluff and a humbug. It is the editor and his put-on do not like America. They will be permitted to return to the land of their nativity to make room for better citizens.

It is a curious fact, and one worthy of special notice, that the Record is perfectly satisfied with the annual report of Street Commissioner Hawthorn, which was presented to the common council on Monday evening.

New Orleans people are sorry they caught O'Malley. That astute detective swears that Italians did not kill Hennessy.

BITS OF STATE POLITICS.

Bloughton liquor men have begun a contest against the election. The citizens committee proposes to cause the arrest of a large number of tobacco handlers who voted and prosecute them. License was carried at the election by only twenty-one majority.

Beloit saloon keepers were on the ragged edge while the assembly was considering the local option bill. When the news was received that the bill was defeated the temperance people were jubilant. With this action of the assembly the saloon question is settled for the coming year, and all licenses will expire May 5.

Five hundred people attended the first meeting of the new Racine common council. Mayor Case made a very able inaugural address.

And now they say it was Senator-elect Vilas who sat on Wall and Peck and compelled them to do as republicans wanted them to in the Wapnau home matter. He realized that the bosses were getting the party in deep water.

PUT OUT OF COURT.

Ben Boston's Experience With a Rhode Island Judge.

Boston, April 23.—The case of Mrs. Johnson, convicted of perjury in a pension application, came up in the United States district court Tuesday morning before Judge Carpenter, of Rhode Island, the question being on the arrest of judgment. When the case was last before the court Gen. B. F. Butler, counsel for Mrs. Johnson, incurred the displeasure of Judge Carpenter, whom the general later characterized as "an inferior judge of an inferior court of an inferior state," and was forbidden by him to again appear before that court. Gen. Butler thereupon carried his right of appearance to the United States supreme court. As a result Mrs. Johnson Tuesday morning appeared without counsel. The judge asked her who was her counsel?

Gen. Butler, was the answer.

"Well," said the judge, "he cannot appear before this court."

Gen. Butler was sent for by his client, and appeared in the courtroom about 1 o'clock. District Attorney Allen, when he entered, moved for sentence, when Gen. Butler arose to address the court. Judge Carpenter, saying that the gentleman was disorderly, ordered Marshal Dougherty to remove him from the courtroom. The marshal and an assistant advanced to Gen. Butler's side and took him by the arms. Butler again endeavored to address the court, when his honor called out: "Mr. Marshal!"

Marshal Doherty said to Butler:

"You hear the order of the judge, general?"

Butler said: "I am ready to—"

"Remove him, Mr. Marshal," broke in the judge. "I can't allow him to create any further disturbance."

Butler again began to speak, but before he could finish the sentence he was taken hold of by the marshal and his assistants and escorted from the room. He was much affected, and his eyes were full of tears as he exclaimed: "I yield to force."

When the marshal released him in the corridor Butler immediately returned to the courtroom. The judge had just left the bench, however, and the general, having looked around and seeing the bench vacant, exclaimed: "Well, the room smells a little better now than it did a few minutes ago!" He then left the court.

PINKERTONS ON GUARD.

With Their Rifles a Big Force of Them Confront the Cuckoo Strikers.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., April 22.—The strikers are gathering their forces to overcome the last and most powerful forces brought to bear by the operators. They are face to face with two hated and feared institutions, the Pinkerton detective forces and an invasion of imported labor. About 500 Pinkertons will be brought into the region and distributed around the different works where the most strenuous efforts are being made to resume. There is said to be eight carloads of them, and as the news of their coming precedes them throughout the region there is constantly increasing excitement. The men have a bitter dislike for the Pinkertons and have often expressed the desire to wipe them off the face of the earth. A batch of 150 Pinkertons arrived here Tuesday and all were placed on duty at Leisenring, No. 2, where extraordinary efforts will be made to start in the morning against the protesters to the strikers. All of the new and uninvited guards are well armed with Springfield rifles, and are a determined set of men. There were no evictions in this section Tuesday, the deputies preferring to wait until their safety is assured.

A Diamond Robbery.

CHICAGO, April 22.—A clever diamond robbery was committed within a block of the Englewood police station Tuesday evening.

A front window in the jewelry and music store of F. G. Thearle, Jr., at Sixty-third street and Wentworth avenue, was broken and a tray of diamonds valued at $2,000 stolen almost under the eyes of half a dozen clerks who were standing around the store.

MADONNA GRADUATES.

LONDON, April 22.—Mutiny has broken out in the third battalion of grenadiers stationed at Chelsea. For some days past the men have manifested discontent and the feeling culminated when the first company refused to go out for parade. Four other companies at St. George's barracks also refused to obey the 8 o'clock call, claiming that the order was contrary to precedent. One of the oldest members of the grenadiers was placed under arrest.

They Were Determined to Die.

PARIS, O., April 22.—Two men committed suicide in this city Tuesday. Fred Jackson, a negro, with a hatchet cut thirteen holes in his head, fracturing his skull, and died in an hour. Adolph Schullerberger shot himself in the head and cut his throat from ear to ear with a razor, then threw himself in the river, where he was found dead. Both were unmarried and without relatives here.

Poisoned by Drinking Well Water.

BURLINGTON, Ia., April 22.—Several deaths have occurred here the last week from the drinking of poisonous well water. The well is situated near the Gilbert and Hodge lumber yards and the workmen have been drinking therefrom for some time. The water, which has been contaminated by adjacent sewers. A number of other persons are seriously sick.

Fire at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—Fire originating in the St. Louis Smelting & Refining Company's carbon warehouse at a late hour Monday night at Howard, a suburban town, spread to the copper warehouse and completely destroyed it, causing a loss of $50,000. The good work of the fire department prevented the flames from spreading to the main works.

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Result of Municipal Elections in Many Illinois Towns.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Elections for city officers were held all over the state Tuesday. In the majority of cases the only issue was the subject of license or anti-license, although the subject of local improvements was sometimes raised. In most of the contests party lines were entirely obliterated, and the results show a long list of victories for the anti-license and high-license people, they generally retaining the towns they had and gaining victories in those that were "wet."

At Rockford the fight was on religious lines. It was a bitter three-cornered struggle. The anti-catholics nominated Starr, a democrat, and the Catholics nominated Add. W. B. Reynolds, also a democrat. Then the republicans put up ex-Mayor Horace G. Scoville. The fight was short but bitter. The result is: Starr, 1,792; Reynolds, 1,435; Scoville, 1,195. The result is a tremendous surprise to the whole city, as it was supposed that the fight was between Reynolds (dem.) and Scoville (rep.). The anti-catholics show a strength which is startling and breaks down all party lines. The victory was attained with every daily paper opposing their candidate.

Towns in which license candidates for mayor were victorious are as follows: Alton, Aurora, Belvidere, Crystal Lake, Geneseo, Clinton, Chenoa, De Kalb, Delavan, Fairbury, Forreston, Flora, Greenville, Hillsboro, Jonesboro, Joliet, Kewanee, Latham, Lawrenceville, Marshall, Moline, Mount Carmel, Nashville, Princeton, Plano, Petersburg, Sheffield, Taylorville, Tolono, Vienna, Vandalia, Wenona and Yorkville.

Anti-license candidates won in the following places: Arcola, Auburn, Benton, Bement, Blue Mound, Carthage, Carrollton, Chisman, Elkhart, Eureka, Gilman, Gibson, Harrisburg, Kirkwood, Knoxville, Lena, Mound City, Monticello, Morrison, Martinsville, Macon, Moweaqua, Mason City, Monmouth, McLeansboro, Newton, Neoga, Odell, Paris, Paxton, Rochelle, Sumner, Toledo, Virginia, Virden and Winchester.

ROYAL

A vintage advertisement for Royal Baking Powder. The top half features a large, stylized illustration of a woman in a long, flowing dress and a tall, ornate hat, looking down. Below her, the word "ROYAL" is written in large, bold, serif capital letters. To the right of the word "ROYAL" is a small, detailed illustration of a cylindrical can of Royal Baking Powder. The can has a label with the word "ROYAL" and other text, including "BAKING POWDER" and "MADE IN U.S.A.". The bottom half of the advertisement contains a block of text in a serif font, which is partially cut off at the top and bottom. The text describes the benefits of the baking powder, mentioning its purity and its use in various recipes. The overall style is that of a classic print advertisement from the early 20th century.
